

January 20, 2012

Southwest General Contractors
223 SW 4th
Amarillo, Texas 79101

To All Potential Clients:

It is my pleasure to recommend the services of Southwest General Contractors, our construction partner for over 15 years.

Throughout our relationship, SWGC has demonstrated integrity, work ethic, and client communications that are above reproach. Each project has been completed within budget and on schedule, as a result of the attention to detail that has become their signature. This is due, in part, to their ability to pair our projects with highly skilled superintendents that meet our predetermined parameters.

Our industry is somewhat unique and requires that we have equipment installations working in concert with the completion of construction. Southwest General Contractors have always accommodated our use of the building and shown a teamwork approach that extends to not only our Team Members, but to all of our third party suppliers as well. They are truly hands-on with the client and accessible long after the contract dictates.

As our company continues to grow and expand, we will rely on the expertise of Southwest General Contractors. They have proven to be an extension of our company culture, which is one of honoring and valuing all those we encounter, both internally and externally. To have found that in a company, that is so integral to our future, is an advantageous position and we look forward to a long relationship with Southwest General Contractors.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'Greg Mitchell'.

Greg Mitchell
President and CEO