RE: Southwest General Contractors – Bond Confirmation

To Whom it May Concern:

This letter will serve as a confirmation of our relationship with Mr. Gary Purser, Mr. Wes Purser and their construction company, Southwest General Contractors, based in Amarillo, Texas.

I have personally known the Pursers since the inception of their company, more than 20 years ago. Further, Southwest General Contractors is well known to our agency as a reputable and professional general contracting company. As a result of these facts, and the financial integrity of the company, Southwest General Contractors maintains an excellent reputation within the construction industry and a superb relationship with their bonding company.

In our capacity as the bonding agent, we provide bonds for Southwest General Contractors through Arch Insurance Company. Arch Insurance Company is a U.S. Treasury listed surety, and they maintain an AM Best Rating of A+ XV ("Excellent").

Arch bonding facility comfortably supports Southwest General Contractors on single projects up to $35,000,000 range. This is a comfortable project size for the contractor and the bonding company, and I anticipate our support for Southwest General Contractors will continue to increased, as they continue to grow their business.

This letter is presented as a surety bond program reference. It is not a big bond, nor is it an assumption of liability by any of the parties. Based on contract documents satisfactory to Southwest General Contractors and the Surety, including but not limited to reasonable terms and conditions with respect to the complete date, penalty, bond forms and project financing, we are prepared to execute performance and payments bonds upon the request of Southwest General Contractors.

We look forward to bonding your projects with Southwest General Contractors. In the meantime, please feel free to contact us with any questions regarding their bonding relationship.

Very truly yours,
Ward & Moore Insurance Services, LP
