I am pleased to provide this letter of recommendation for Southwest General Contractors. We engaged the company to manage the construction related to a relatively simple remodel of our office building. After very serious issues with the building surfaced during the initial stages, our simple remodel turned into a major project.

The team at Southwest from our superintendent to our project manager did an excellent job of keeping us informed and providing professional expertise at every turn in the road. The team was more than fair in their handling of the project, always keeping our needs and our budget in mind, and helped make a difficult situation better by keeping a strict timeline and finishing the project on time in spite of the increased scope of the project. We had chosen a trustworthy and honest general contractor and that was evident in how our project was managed and completed.

The end result of our project is a beautiful building that we are proud to call home. I would proudly recommend Southwest General Contractors.

Sincerely,

Jason Hall
