To Whom It May Concern:

Southwest General Contractors performed a project for Gruver State Bank from October 2013 through February 2014. I was most impressed with the project manager, Chris Moncivais, and the superintendent, John Durr. They had very open communications with management throughout the project AND completed the project one month ahead of schedule.

We continued to do business in our building during the construction period and it was very seamless. Chris, John and the employees were very respectful and appreciative of our employees and also our customers. They have a very professional staff and were always ahead of every situation. They also worked really well with our architect and made sure the construction was like we wanted. I would highly recommend anyone to Southwest General Contractors.

Sincerely,
